PEKIN WAS LIKE AN INFERNO.

SOLDIERS BUTCHER 5,000 CONVERTS.

Though the Rumors Continue Contradictory, the Terrible Reports From Pekin are Being Confirmed—An Agreement That Japan Shall Send Troops.

By Wire to the Telegram.

London, July 6.—Although the many wild rumors from the far East are contradictory, from most points they continue unanimous as to the consummation of the tragedy at Pekin. It is now stated that the Chinese soldiers butchered 5,000 native Catholic converts at this place.

News coming from Shanghai, in a dispatch dated yesterday, adding confirmation to reports given out by responsible Chinese from Chian-Fu, who describe the city of Pekin as an inferno. The streets are said to literally run with blood. Numerous stories concerning the execution and torture of isolated foreigners are confirmed.

Some European soldiers were captured by a mob led by Yang Lu, who counseled moderation. The Europeans were completely wiped out of existence by Tuang Tung Yi and Tung Fu Sian, who issued fresh edicts ordering the merciless extermination of all foreigners in the empire.

FOR THE RELIEF OF PEKIN.

London, July 6—Lord Salisbury has obtained an agreement from the German, Italian and Austrian governments to authorize Japan to send a force sufficient for the relief of Pekin. Russia has opposed this plan, and the union is really against her. Japan is ready to send 100,000 to China at once.

GORED BY A BULL.

Robert Morehead Critically Injured as a Result of an Accident.

Robert Morehead, a negro employed at Wakefield's dairy, south of town, was gored by a mad bull and seriously injured early this morning. A gash six inches long and reaching to the bone was cut in his left thigh, while he was terribly mutilated in the breast. One of the bull's horns struck him in the right side of the breast, tearing it open and breaking two of the left ribs.

Dr. Turner was called and dressed the injured man's wounds. His condition is extremely critical and may result in death.

"Haven't Saw" Was Absent.

Asheville Citizen.

From the Greensboro Telegram it is learned that "Senator Pritchard got a little tangled on building roads 'for you and I,' but he came out all right on San 'Whan' Hill." That is easily explained. "You and I" is probably a life-long friend of the Senator, and therefore not easily thrown off, whereas San "Whan" was doubtless readily acquired during residence among the official set at the capital. We rejoice that our old friend "Haven't Saw" was not present and working on the occasion referred to.

Hear the Gallant Veteran.

Hon. Dan Hugh McLean, who is to speak in the court house tonight, has been in the city since yesterday afternoon taking a short rest. Mc. McLean is one of the best known and most popular men in eastern North Carolina and is without a pier as a forceful and eloquent campaign orator. He is a gallant Confederate veteran and is thoroughly posted on the political history of North Carolina. Be sure and hear him tonight.

AT THE ACADEMY LAST NIGHT.

An Interesting Entertainment by Miss Knibloe and Assistants.

On account of the oppressively warm night, and the short notice of the entertainment last night, there was not as large a crowd at the Academy of Music as would otherwise have been in attendance. But those who did not go certainly missed a great treat, for Miss Knibloe, assisted by Miss Louise Killian, of Greenville, S. C.; Miss Minnie Gorrell and Mr. J. Wesley White, vocalists, and Miss Juanita Cooper, pianist, gave a most enjoyable entertainment.

Too much cannot be said in praise of Miss Knibloe as an impersonator and whistler, and those who had heard the many complimentary things that had been said of her were not in the least disappointed.

Miss Killian completely captivated her audience. Her voice is clear and sweet and powerful, and her style charming.

The vocal solos by Miss Minnie Gorrell and Mr. White, and the piano solo by Miss Cooper, added much to the enjoyableness of the program. Miss Lola Carraway was the accompanist.

NO SYMPATHY HERE.

A Woman Dies Wednesday and Today Finds Her Body Unburied.

Wednesday a negro woman died at her home on Cole street, and today her body was still unburied. It was lying on a bed in the room where she died and there was not a soul in the house. It seems that immediately after her death the people residing in the house moved out in order to escape the responsibility of arranging for the funeral or caring for the body.

None of the dead woman's neighbors or acquaintances could be induced to take any steps whatever towards bearing the expense of or even arranging for a burial. A police officer got an order from the county for a coffin and a negro was hired to dig a grave. The entire expense was borne by the city and county.

Death of Mr. Helms' Father.

Mr. J. D. Helms, of the L. Richardson Drug Co., was called to his old home in Monroe Wednesday by the illness of his father, Mr. Abel Helms, of that place. The news of the latter's death, which occurred this morning, has reached Greensboro. Mr. Helms was of advanced age and a well known man of his section. He will be well remembered by friends whom he met while here visiting his son last year.

Death of a Well Known Woman.

Mrs. R. K. Denny, a well known and highly esteemed lady, died yesterday afternoon at her home near Brown Summit. The funeral service was held at 2 o'clock this afternoon at Center.

Mrs. Denny was a member of a prominent family and leaves a large number of friends and relatives. She was a sister to Mr. John W. McNairy, of this city. Her husband, the late Dr. R. K. Denny, died last year.

False Rumor Denied.

To the Editor of the Telegram:

I have met the rumor today that the gospel tent meeting of the Christian and Missionary Alliance had been postponed. How it started, I do not know, but you may expect to get a seat in the tent on West Washington street at 7:30 tonight. We shall probably enlarge the tent tomorrow.

STEVENSON NAMED!

CLEVELAND'S RUNNING MATE.

VOTE PRACTICALLY UNANIMOUS.

Democrats Settle the Vexed Question in a Happy Manner--Hill, Towne, Bansforth Julian S. Carr and Others Placed Before the Convention--Bryan Makes an Important Discovery--Silver Republicans Nominate the Nebraskan.

By Wire to the Telegram.

Kansas City, July 6.—The Democratic National Convention was called to order at 11:30, Eastern time. George Fred Williams, of Massachusetts, took the platform and nominated Adlai E. Stevenson, of Illinois, for vice-president. He made a strong speech and said Stevenson, "was not a Rough Rider, but a swift rider.

Dumpy, of the State of Washington, placed the name of ex-Congressman J. Hamilton Lewis before the convention. Towne was nominated by Tiler, his nomination being seconded by Amos J. Cummings, of New York. Kennedy, of Connecticut, seconded the nomination of Stevenson. David B Hill was nominated by Grady. The nomination was seconded by Lawrence, of Louisiana.

Hill's friends denounce Grady's nomination of the New Yorker as a Tammany trick, Hill arose and said the delegates had no right to name him, adding that he would not accept. The Delaware delegation seconded Hill's nomination.

S. M. Gattis, of the Fifth North Carolina District, nominated Gen. Julian S. Carr, of Durham, for vice-president. An Ohio delegate nominated Congressman Lentz.

Bryan has discovered that there is no reference in the platform to the income tax.

The Silver Republican Convention has nominated Bryan for President.

STEVENSON NOMINATED.

Kansas City, July 6—Adlai E Stevenson is the nominee of the Democratic National Convention for the vice-presidency. The vote on his nomination was practically unanimous.

HOW THEY DRESSED.

The Finery Worn by Little Girls a Few Years Ago.

"How nicely the little girls of today are dressed," said a mamma who was a little girl in the long ago days. "How sharp is the contrast between these girls and those of 26 or 30 years ago. In winter we wore calico dresses for the best as well as for school wear. If we had a woolen dress, it was made of red and blue checked flannel, of the kind that long since fell into disuse even for petticoats, and with it we wore brown-checked calico sleeve-aprons, to keep it clean.

"How well I remember the joy with which we hailed some new dresses that were bought for us one October day. Our new school gowns were sprinkled with green clover leaves; Millie's Sunday dress, of shining 'oil' calico, had berries scattered over a dark green ground. We had an inch-wide piece of flowered ribbon, the calico ruffle standing above it, about our necks.

"Our raps were plaid shawls, and mother knit our winter stockings of yarn, warm as a mouse's nest.

"Our winter everyday shoes were of leather, laced, and with copper toes; our best shoes were heavy kid, also laced. Our headgear was checked gingham and checked calico sun bonnets for school in warm weather—sometimes "slat" bonnets, with strips of pasteboard inserted in the crowns—honest bonnets, with long capes.

"In winter we wore hoods. Millie and I thought we were indeed 'fixed' when we donned our Sunday hoods, hers of red zepher, shading to palest pink, and mine of dark blue, shading to pale. They had even shaded ribbon for drawstrings, and were too sacredly precious for school. For that ordinary wear we had home-made worsted bonnets, quilted, or home-knit yarn hoods."

Five boys, their ages ranging from 11 to 17 years, were arrested in Chicago the other day, charged with constituting an organized band of burglars. The "Windy City" is in crying need of a Botany Bay.

DEATH OF MR. MORRIS.

The End Came Last Night---Funeral This Afternoon.

Mr. A. S. Morris, who was shot at the Battle Ground Wednesday afternoon by Will Ingram, colored, died at his home at Proximity last night at 9:30 o'clock. The wound was not considered necessarily fatal, the cause of his death being inflamation. Yesterday afternoon his condition became more serious and he continued to grow worse until the end.

The dead man was 39 years old. He leaves a wife and three children, the youngest being about 8 or 10 years old. He was a man of good character and stood well in the community. He carried a policy in the Life Insurance Company of Virginia.

The funeral took place at Buffalo Presbyterian church this afternoon at 5 o'clock, the service being conducted by Rev. Horace Weeks Jones. Mr. Morris was a member of Keystone Council No 81, Jr. O U. A. M., and a number of the members of this order attended the funeral.

Nothing has been heard of the negro who did the shooting. It is thought that he probably went to Winston.

A QUIET WEDDING.

Miss Davis Becomes the Bride of Mr. Amos.

One of the pretty and quiet marriages of the season was that of Miss Susie Davis and Mr. James E. Amos, of Reidsville, which took place at the residence of Mrs. Sikes, on East Washington street, last night at 9 o'clock.

The parlor was pretty in its decorations of ferns and ivy and the light from lovely shaded lamps.

While Miss Celestie Hunter played Mendlessohn's wedding march, the maid of honor, Miss Amos, and the best man, Mr. Smith, entered the parlor. Then followed the bride and groom. Rev. Livingston Johnson very impressively performed the ceremony, that made them man and wife, while the soft, sweet strains of "Pure as Snow" added to the impressiveness of the service.

The bride was becomingly gowned in a dainty costume of white organdy, elaborately trimmed with lace and ribbons.

The maid of honor wore a pretty dress of white organdy.

Only a few intimate friends were present. The young couple received many useful and pretty gifts. They left last night for Reidsville, their future home.

Bible Circulating.

The American Bible Society is to circulate the Good Book in the Philippines. Instead of depending on missionaries from the United States, a native Tagalog and a native Pangasinan are to be employed to go into the interior of the country. The scriptures are now in progress of translation into the curious dialects of the islanders. The Bible Society is pushing the work forward with all possible rapidity. The work already undertaken comprises the dialects of the Tagalos, Pangasinans and Viscayans. Scholars are studying the other dialects. These translators will be the first to make a written language of many Filipino vernaculars.

Another plan of work in the Philippines which the society has in view is a scheme for distributing Bibles among the ships that come into Manila Harbor. This idea is suggested by the plan already in effective operation in Port Said Harbor.

All this work in the Philippines is under the control of the Secretaries of the American Bible Society, whose office is in New York. They have just received the first report of Rev. Jay C. Goodrich, who was sent from New York to undertake the distribution of Bibles and Testaments, and he is already at work.

During the year just ended $150,000,000 has been expended for building improvements in Greater New York. There was a considerable rush to file plans before the new building code went into operation. A rapid rise in the price of land and building materials has caused many builders to enlarge the structures to the utmost limit in order to secure sufficient rental to make the buildings paying investments.

THE PLATFORM AS ADOPTED.

IMPERIALISM THE GREAT ISSUE.

If Foreign People Are Taken In They Endanger Our Civilization, if They Are Ruled Outside They Endanger Our Form of Government, so They had Better be let Alone—16 to 1 Re-Affirmed—Favors Immediately Turning Cuba Over.

The platform adopted at the Kansas City convention yesterday is condensed as follows:

We, the representatives of the Democratic party of the United States, assembled in the National Convention on the anniversary of the adoption of the Declaration of Independence, to reaffirm our faith in that immortal proclamation of the inalienable rights of man and our allegiance to the Constitution framed in harmony therewith by the fathers of the republic.

We hold with the United States Supreme Court that the Declaration of Independence is the spirit of our government of which the Constitution is the form and letter. We declare again that all governments instituted among men derive their just powers from the consent of the governed; that any government not based upon the consent of the governed is a tyranny, and that to impose upon any people a government of force is to substitute the methods of imperialism for those of a republic.

CONSTITUTION FOLLOWS THE FLAG.

We hold that the Constitution follows the flag and denounce the doctrine that an executive or Congress deriving their existence and their powers from the Constitution can exercise lawful authority beyond, or in violation of it. We assert that no nation can long endure half republic and half empire, and we warn the American people that imperialism abroad will lead quickly and inevitably to depotism at home.

Believing in these fundamental principles, we denounce the Porto Rico law, enacted by a Republican Congress against the protest and opposition of the Democratic minority, as a bold and open violation of the nations organic law and a flagrant breach of the National good faith. It imposes upon the people of Porto Rico a government without their consent and taxation without representation. It dishonors the American people by repudiating a solemn pledge made in their behalf by the commanding general of our army, which the Porto Ricans welcomed to a peaceful and unresisted occupation of their island. It doomed to poverty and distress a people whose helplessness appeals with peculiar force to our justice and magnanimity.

In this, the first act of its imperialistic program, the Republican party seeks to commit the United States to a colonial policy, inconsistent with Republican institutions and condemed by the Supreme Court in numerous decisions.

CUBA AND THE PHILIPPINES.

We demand the prompt and honest fufillment of our pledge to the Cuban people and the world that the United States has no disposition nor intention to exercise sovereignty, jurisdiction or control over the island of Cuba, except for its pacification. The war ended nearly two years ago, profound peace reigns over all the island, and still the administration keeps the government from the people, while Republican carpet-bag officials plunder its revenues and exploit the colonial theory to the disgrace of the American people.

We condemn and denounce the Philippine policy of the present administration. It has embroiled the republic in an unnecessary war, sacrificed the lives of many of its noblest men, and placed the United States, previously known and applauded throughout the world as the champion of freedom, in the false and un-American position of crushing with military force the efforts of our former allies to achieve liberty and self-government. The Filipinos cannot be citizens without endangering our civilization; they cannot be subject without imperiling our form of government; and as we are not willing to surrender our civilization or to convert the republic into an empire, we favor an immediate declaration of the nation's purpose to give to the Filipinos, first, a stable form of govern-

IN THE CONVENTION YESTERDAY.

TILLMAN READING THE PLATFORM.

A Flag Kaleidescope--What Mr. Tillman Thought Mark Hanna Would Say Were He Present--The Flag and the Constitution Inseperable--More Enthusiasm for Hill--He Promises the Party New York's 36 Electoral Votes--The Unanimous Passage of the Platform and the Nomination of Bryan.

The work of the convention yesterday ended by the unanimous nomination of Mr. Bryan. After the unanimous adoption of the platform the convention adjourned at 8:33 p. m., to meet at ten o'clock today. Below are some of the convention scenes:

It was not until 4 o'clock that Chairman Richardson turning from a conference with Governor McMillin and Senator White, picked up the gavel and brought the convention to order. The platform committee headed by Senator Jones, D. J. Campau, Senator Tillman and Judge Van Wyck had just pushed their way through the dense throng and proceeding to the platform had taken seats flanking the chairman Mr. Richardson appealed long and vainly for order. The portly form of Senator Jones, silver-haired and serious, advanced to the front of the stage. He held a roll of manuscript in his hands. But it was useless to talk against such a tumult and he dropped back into his seat until order was restored.

At last the noise subsided and Mr. Jones in a clear voice announced:

"I am authorized by the committee on resolutions to present the platform agreed upon and I yield to the Senator from South Carolina, Mr. Tillman, to read the document."

Mr. Tillman now stepped to the front and was greeted with a cheer. He read the platform in a full round voice, easily heard throughout the hall.

TILLMAN DOES PANTOMIME.

As he proceeded each plank was greeted with applause. The Senator accompanied his reading with emphatic gestures, striding up and down the platform, turning this way and that after his manner in the Senate. There was a howl of approval as he clinched his fist and fiercely arraigned the course of the Administration in Cuba. But it remained for his reading of the declaration that "imperialism is the paramount issue of this campaign," to evoke a storm of enthusiasm. The delegates sprang to their feet, standing on their chairs, waving hats, handkerchiefs, umbrellas, flags, while the galleries took up the chorus carried it along for many minutes. Senator Hill could be seen marshaling the hosts to cheer. He held a fan high above his head and added his voice to the vociferous shouting. Second time Senator Tillman read this declaration and now even a greater demonstration than before carried the convention off its feet. Suddenly hundreds, then thousands of miniature American flags were passed among the delegates and the whole floor of the vast structure became a sea of flags. An instant later the flags swept over the galleries like a mass of flame. Hundreds of them were tossed upon the seats and distributed. The scene was magnificently inspiring and the great audience was worked up to a fever heat. On each flag was the device "The Constitution and The Flag are Inseparable, now and forever. The flag of the Republic forever, of an empire never." While the demonstration was at its height, the band sent another thrill through the audience by playing "Dixie," and a melody of patriotic airs. State standards were again torn from their sockets, banners were raised and a triumphal procession of the delegates marched about the hall. Now the strains of the band turned to "My Country 'Tis of Thee," at which the entire audience as with a single voice, joined in a mighty and swelling chorus. Amid the billowing of flags could be seen a tall standard bearing the inscription "Forcible Annexation would be criminal aggression—William McKinley."

THE FLAG OF THE REPUBLIC.

It was at this juncture that the climax was sprung upon the great assembly. A huge flag had been flung across the roof between two trusses and slowly it untold its white and crimson folds as it fell gracefully and swung over the platform, slightly to the rear and south of the speaker's desk. The banner was an enormous affair, being fully fifty feet long and about one-half as wide. Upon the white stripes were printed the following sentences in large letters of blue:

"Constitutional governments derive their just powers from the consent of the governed."

"The constitution and the flag, one and inseparable now and forever.

"The flag of a republic forever, of an empire never.

"A republic can have no colonies."

To the vast majority of those in the hall the flag was an unexpected incident, and its appearance was the signal for a frantic roar which caused everything that had gone before it to sink into insignificance. For a full two minutes the cords of the flag caught and were drawn in to permit of its full length. It caught up just enough to prevent the convention from reading the inscription upon the banner and until they were released and the banner swung free, the enthusiasm increased every second. When finally every word was visible there was a climax of cheers that was deafening.

WHAT HANNA WOULD SAY

Senator Tillman stood surveying the storm and awaiting an opportunity to proceed. The chairman pounded his gavel and appealed for order. But the march of the delegates, bearing their standards and banners, ran on uninterruptedly for twenty-two minutes As Senator Tillman was about to resume he remarked that the thread of his discourse had been broken, and that down south they were in the habit of saying: "Hell has broken loose in Georgia."

"And," added the Senator, vociferously, "if Mark Hanna had been here a few minutes ago he would have thought hell had broken loose in Missouri."

THE FEELING AGAINST IMPERIALISM

There were cries of "Good," "Good," when the trust plank was read. When the the Senator reached the reaffirmation of the Chicago platform, with the declaration for free silver coinage at a ratio of 16 to 1, pendemonium again broke loose. But the demonstration was faint in comparison to what had just occurred when imperialism was announced as the paramount issue." Many of the delegates stood on their chairs and waived flags and cheered, but a very considerable number—more than half—held their seats. Senator Hill was among those who maintained quiet, while Mr. Croker waved a flag until it broke and George Fred Williams led the Massachusetts contingent in salvos of cheers. One of the New York delegates raised a standard bearing the inscription: "Don't think there are no 16 to 1'ers in New York."

The demonstration lasted four and one-half minutes.

There was an intense scorn in the Senator's voice as he read the platform arraignment of the Hay-Pauncefote treaty.

fote treaty, evoking mingled laughter and applause. The Boer plank brought another cheer and the Senator received a round applause as he closed.

OLDHAM PRESENTS BRYAN.

W. D. Oldham, of Nebraska, who was to present the name of Bryan to the convention, was waiting by the chairman's desk, and as the chairman of the Alabama delegation resumed his seat, he came forward and in a few graceful words expressed his appreciation of the favor extended by Alabama in surrendering its time to the State of Mr. Bryan. Mr. Oldham deliverd his eulogy of Mr. Bryan with impassioned fervor. As he approached the close of his address, he raised both hands high over his head and spoke slowly and with an energy that caused his voice to penetrate into everp corner of the hall. "And, that man is—William Jennings Bryan," he concluded, bringing his hands lower with each word until the last had been uttered when he brought them up with a sweep, but quicker than his motion was that answering cheer that swept across the convention. It was simultaneous roar for all parts of the hall. Up went the delegates on their chairs, over their heads went the flags and above them all soared and rang the cheers for Bryan. The band loyally performed its share, but the noise of its creation was but a drop in the torrent.

A SPEECH FROM HILL AT LAST.

Judge Thompson did not take the ten minutes allotted him and when he finished, Connecticut yielded for David B. Hill. Even as the State yielded, the convention took up the cry which had been on its tongue for two days. Flags waved and the delegates rose and cheered with the audience. The men in New York, wearing the Tammany badges, were the only delegates who kept their seats. Ex-Senator Hill forced his way to the platform and waved his hand for silence. When the cheers and cries of "Hill!" "Hill!" had concluded, and the vast audience was seated, he began to speak slowly but clearly and the attention given him was remarkable. The vast hall was almost perfectly silent. His laudation of Bryan was received with applause and cheers. But when he said "Bryan will receive the support of an united party" the crowd went wild and the band had to play "America" to still the tumult. "His integrity has never been questioned," asserted Mr. Hill, and the audience yelled "That's so!" His explanation of his position on the platform and his acquiescence with the will of the majority called forth heartier applause than had been evident before, and the good offices of the band was again necessary. "This nomination will meet the approval of the East," he said, and enthused his auditors. In closing he said:

"New York expects to join with you with her 36 electoral votes," and then as he stepped down from the platform, the convention became a bedlam again. "Hill for Vice President!" was one of the cries raised and delegates all over the house were on their feet, except the five rows of Tammany men. Ex-Senator Murphy, as Mr. Hill passed, grasped his hand and shook it heartily. Then Mr. Shea, of Brooklyn, did the same and others in the row, but Mr. Croker sat immobile and Hill passed him without salutation. The applause for Senator Hill lasted for some minutes.

BRYAN NOMINATED.

Mrs. Coleman's speech concluded the nominating speeches and the secretary began to call the roll of States on the ballot for the presidential nomination. As the roll call proceeded the shouts of applause for the unanimity of the vote seemed to increase. All the large States were cheered heartily as one after another they cast their votes for Mr. Bryan.

Georgia, Indiana, Illinois, Kentucky, and Massachusetts were cheered cordially, but when Missouri, and a moment later, Nebraska were called, the convention fairly palpitated with enthusiasm. So it was too, when the State of New York was called, the convention rising to its feet and cheering. The list of States and Territories was completed with the calling of the Territory of Hawaii.

THE CLOSING SCENE.

The announcement by Chairman Richardson that Mr. Bryan had been nominated for President of the United States unanimously, was received with great applause, but it did not compare with the previous demonstration during the day. The huge flag suspended from the roof, which had played its part earlier in the session was again lowered, the band played and the people cheered. Standing on their seats, some of the delegates waved flags or standards, but the enthusiasm did not run at high tide.

The Public, and especially the ladies, is cordially invited to call at any time and view the plant. We believe they would find it interesting to see the rapidity with which our new machines turn out work. A tablecloth, sheet or counterpane is ironed in thirty seconds or a dozen smaller articles in the same length of time. Collars and cuffs are ironed at one passage through the rollers of our Domestic machine. We also have a machine especially for ironing ladies' shirt waists. To mention in detail all of our machines would require too much space; a personal inspection is necessary to take it in. We run three delivery wagons for the accommodation of our patrons. FRIDAY, JULY 6, 1900.

PROGRESS OF THE CAMPAIGN.

Our Raleigh correspondent, who is himself, perhaps as good a barometer of political sentiment as anybody in the State, coming in touch, as he does, with all the leading citizens of the entire State, quotes without disapproval, an estimate that the amendment will be carried by 30,000 majority. The conditions have been for some time improving. This is a natural result of the campaign work of both parties. The Republicans have been, ever since the amendment was proposed, busily striving to implant prejudice and error into the minds of the people. Their premeditated scheme very likely was to get the minds of the persons they call the "poor white men" thoroughly poisoned against the measure before the Demncratic campaign opened. This they succeeded in doing in some sections. No misrepresentation, no amount of meanness, was too great to be used in accomplishing this result.

But the change began immediately after the Democratic campaign opened. The people readily responded to the appeal which the Democrats began to make to their common sense. They saw that the intention of the party to put the negro out of politics would work no injury to any white man, but on the other hand, would give them immeasurably more freedom, more stimulus to exertion, and above all, it pledged the party to an advanced educational position. Mr. Aycock's bold stand for the white man and for the education of the white boys and girls was easily the crowning glory of the campaign, and it is bearing fruit in the universal favor with which it is being received by the white people.

The fourth of July saw the high water mark of the campaign so far in many sections. There were numerous speakings and gatherings, many of them bringing out large crowds. The great tide of enthusiasm that has been gathering for some time was augmented by these meetings, and there will be no ebb, no break, in its rise, till the fateful second day of August sees it forever sweep from North Carolina the stigna of negro-scallawag domination.

There is vast difference between the Democrat conventions of 1896 and of 1900. In Chicago, the silver delegates frantic in their triumph for silver, gleefully turned their back upon David B. Hill and his kind. This year the enthusiasm for Hill is exceeded only by that for Bryan himself. And while silver was put in the platform, it was put there against the protest of nearly half the convention. While a large part of the party has learned the lesson of 1896, Mr. Bryan himself has not, it seems. But this convention is one of extreme conservatism compared with that of 1996. Things are hopeful.

None of us need be too sure of what the Chinese can do in the way of fighting when once they are aroused. The empire is an unwieldy old shell, and never can do anything as a power, but if the people unite on some line of race hatred they will be unconquerable.

A good deal of Fourth of July got into the platform, but even that is better than the San "Whan" kop.

Mr. Hearst has started the American in Chicago, after the style of his Journal of New York and his Examiner of San Francisco. Is this a reflection on Chicago's taste?

Three cheers for our Adlai. He has been for silver without going wild, and he has always been running in powerful good company.

The stable form of government like those of South America is good.

THE PLATFORM AS ADOPTED.

ment; second, independence; and third, protection from outside interference, such as has been given for nearly a century to the republics of Central and South America.

The greedy commercialism which dictated the Philippine policy of the Republican administration attempts to justify it with the plea that it will pay, but even this sordid and unworthy plea fails when brought to the test of facts. The war of "criminal aggression" against the Filipinos, entailing an annual expense of many millions, has already cost more than any possible profit that could accrue from the entire Philippine trade for years to come. Furthermore, when trade is extended at the expense of liberty, the price is always too high.

NOT OPPOSED TO EXPANSION.

We are not opposed to territorial expansion when it takes in desirable territory when it can be erected into States in the Union and whose people are willing and fit to become American citizens. We favor trade expansion by every peaceful and legitimate means. But we are unalterably opposed to the seizing or purchasing of distant islands to be governed outside the Constitution and whose people can never become citizens.

We are in favor of extending the republic's influence among the nations, but believe that influence should be extended not by force and violence, but through the persuasive powers of a high and honorable example.

IMPERIALISM PARAMOUNT.

The importance of other questions now pending before the American people is in nowise diminished, and the Democratic party takes no backward step from its position on them, but the burning issue of imperialism growing out of the Spanish war involves the very existence of the republic and the destruction of our free institutions. We regard it as the paramount issue of the campaign. We insist on the strict maintenance of the Monroe doctrine in all its integrity, both in the letter and spirit, as necessary to prevent the extension of European authority on this continent and as essential to our supremacy in American affair. At the same time we declare that no American people shall ever be held by force in unwilling subjection to European authority.

We oppose militarism. It means conquest abroad and intimidation and oppression at home. It means the strong arm which has ever been fatal to free institutions. It is what millions ot our citizens have fled from in Europe. It will impose upon our peace-loving people a large standing army and unnecessary burdens of taxation and a constant menace to their liberties. A small standing army and a well-disciplined state militia are amply sufficient in time of peace. The republic has no place for a vast military service and conscription.

TARIFF AND SILVER.

Tariff laws should be amended by putting the products of trusts upon the free list to prevent monopoly under the plea of protection.

We condemn the Dingley tariff law as a trust breeding measure skillfully devised to give to the few favors which they do not deserve and to place upon the many burdens which they should not bear.

We reaffirm and endorse the principles of the National Democratic platform adopted in Chicago in 1896, and we reiterate the demand of that platform for an American financial system made by the American people fer themselves which shall restore and maintain a bimetallic price level; and as a part of such system, the immediate restoration of the free and unlimited coinage of silver and gold at the present legal ration os 16 to 1, without awaiting for the aid or consent of any other nation.

We denounce the currency bill enacted at the last session of Congress as a step forward in the Republican policy which aims to discredit the soverign right of the national government to issue all money whether coin or paper and to bestow upon national banks the power to issue and control the volume of paper money for their own benefit.

MISCELLANEOUS

We favor an amendment to the Federal Constitution providing for the election of United States senators by the direct vote of the people and favor direct legislation wherever practicable.

We are opposed to government by injunction, and we denounce the black list and favor arbitration as a means of settling disputes between corporations and their employes.

We are proud of the courage and fidelity of the American soldiers and sailors in our wars. We favor liberal pensions for them and their dependents and we reiterate the position taken in the Chicago platform of 1896, that the fact of enlistment and service shall be deemed conclusive evidence against disease and disability before enlistment.

We favor the immediate construction, ownership and control of the Nicaragua Canal by the United States, and we denounce the insincerity of the plank in the Republican National platform for an Isthmian canal in the face of the failure of the Republican majority to pass the bill pending in Congress.

We favor the continuance and strict enforcement of the Chinese exclusion law and its application to the same classes of Asiatic races.

Jefferson said: "Peace, commerce and honest friendship with all nations; entangling alliances with none." We approve this wholesome doctrine and earnestly protest against the Republican departure which has involved us in so-called world politics, including the diplomacy of Europe, and the intrigue and land grabbing of Asia and we especially condemn the ill-concealed Republican alliance with England, which must mean discrimination against other friendly nations, and which has already stifled the nation's voice while liberty is being strangled in South Africa.

Believing in the principles of self-government, and rejecting, as did our fore-fathers, the claim of monarchy, we view with indignation the purpose of England to overwhelm with force the South African republics. Speaking, as we believe, for the entire American nation, except its Republican office-holders, and for all freemen everywhere, we extend our sympathies to the patriotic burghers in their unequal struggle to maintain their liberty and independence.

Why Pen Knives?

Do you know why the little pocket-knives are often called penknives? Perhaps some of you have often wondered, and did not like to ask. You use a steel pen at school, but when Washington lived there were no steel pens. At that time, and until the year 1820, pens were made out of the quills or large feathers of the goose and other birds. Now these quill pens, being soft, got out of order and split, so they had to be remade. Most writers kept a sharp knife to remake these pens, so the knives got to be called "penknives." The word "pen" is from the latin word "penna," which means a feather; so when we say steel pen we talk of a steel feather, which is absurd, but then the language is made up of very funny words and phrases, and the little word "pen" is now used only for the piece of steel with which we write.

A Very Serious Case.

Mrs. Briske—"Johnny, did the doctor call while I was out?"

Little Johnny (stopping his play)—"Yes'm. He felt my pulse an' looked at my tongue, and shook his head, and said it was a very serious case, and he left this paper, and said he'd call again before night."

Mrs. Briske—"Gracious me! It wasn't you I sent him to see; it was the baby."—Tit-Bits.

is where we stand in the lumber business. At the kicking post, as it were, in regard to prices.

First comes the owner of the timber. He just woke up to the value of it and wants double last year's prices. Then the sawmill man. He has not been making a fortune and thinks now he should share a little in the general prosperity

Young Kruger's Game.

President Kruger was asked some time back about the number of wild beasts he had slain in his boyhood, and said that he slew so many lions, elephants, rhinoceroses and other animals when guarding his father's cattle and sheep that he really could not remember the number. A story is told to the effect that, when he was only eight years old, he protected a little girl from the attack of a beast of prey, his only weapon being a jackknife. His father was famous among the Boers as a lion slayer.

MEETING IN RICHMOND COUNTY.

Chairman Simmons Says the Fourth of July Gathering There was the Biggest He has Seen—A Democrat Thinks the Amendment Will be Adopted by 30,000.

Special Correspondence to the Telegram.

Raleigh, July 6—In the course of a talk with Democratic State Chairman Simmons about the campaign he spoke of the Fourth of July speaking at Ellerbee Springs Richmond county, as the largest affair of the kind he has seen. There were more than five thousand people present, a fifth of them ladies. Some of the latter, hot as was the weather, rode 15 or 20 miles to be present. The procession formed at Rockingham and went 12 miles to the Springs. The line of mounted men was a mile and a quarter in length. The enthusiasm of the meeting was unbounded.

The executive committee of the Farmers' State Alliance changes its mind and decides that the annual meeting of the order shall be held August 14, the date fixed last year, and that it will be sufficiently long after the State election for politics to be quiet.

A Democrat who is old in years and in experience said to your correspondent: "I believe the people of North Carolina will, on the second day of August, ratify the constitutional amendment by 30,000 majority. Mark those figures and let me tell you something else. You will find that after the black vote is thus put out of the way there will be a big change in November in the presidential vote, for I really do not believe we can carry the State for Bryan this time. Some people may find fault with this statement, but I make it frankly and want to know if you or anyone else in the State has ever seen so little interest in a National Democratic Convention and its nominees as in the present one."

The clerk to the corporation commission is now preparing the statements which will show the apportionment of the tax assessment of the railways to the various towns and counties.

FROM THE CAPITOL

WASHINGTON GOSSIP, NEWS AND VIEWS.

How Men Become Great Orators—Rise of Secretary Long and Senator Lodge—Riding on Passes—The Agricultural Department.

(Washington Correspondence.)

Nothing is so conducive to good public speaking as—public speaking.

The other day I heard Senator Lodge make an address in the Senate chamber. Practical and pointed, it was an admirable piece of oratory and quite effective. There was little hesitation to secure just the right words, and, taken altogether, it was about as eloquent an address as is often heard among a body of good speakers. It was but a few years ago—at least, so it seems to me—that I heard Lodge make his first political or public speech. It was at a Republican state convention in Worcester, Mass., and it was a lamentable forensic effort. But Senator Lodge persisted, and he is now a charming speaker.

The same may be said of Secretary of the Navy Long. His first public speech of any consequence was made at a political rally in Lowell, Mass., when he was an unknown Boston lawyer. He was sent out from the Hub in company with John B. D. Cogswell—since deceased—a most gifted man and eloquent speaker. Before the meeting began Long asked Judge Cogswell if he would allow him to speak first. "For," said the future statesman, "I'm not a public speaker, have nothing to say, and may not be able to speak five minutes." "Very well," said the Judge, "you speak first, and I will make my talk long enough or short enough to fill up the time, whatever it may be." Mr. Long spoke only a few minutes, and it was plain to see that he had not then acquired the faculty of thinking while standing before an audience. He was diffident, embarrassed and incoherent. Going back to Boston that night Mr. Long told Judge Cogswell that his experience confirmed him in the conclusion that he would never make a public speaker. His forte was office law practice, which he should henceforth stick to. But he did not. He made another speech, and another, and during his subsequent political career he made so many campaign speeches that he is now one of the most graceful orators in this country. It all comes by practice. And there is more hope for the diffident young man, whose words come haltingly, than for the one who thinks public speaking is easy.

Speaking of the mileage claim of Brigham H. Roberts, some one says if he gets it he will do so as a matter of courtesy only, and adds that Congressional mileage is a matter of courtes anyway, as "very few, if any, of the Senators and Representatives are morally entitled to a dollar of the large amounts paid them for mileage. They travel on passes, and the mileage is simply a perquisite, which would be neither paid nor claimed if a healther moral sentiment prevailed among them." But what right have Congressmen to receive or ride on free railroad passes? Or what right have they to the telegraph or express frank? How can they return the quid pro quo? There is some reason in an editor receiving railroad passes. He can return an equivalent without detriment to the public welfare. A Congressman cannot do so.

Thus far legislation has progressed unusually slow. If it keeps on at the present rate the session is likely to continue until August.

There is a good deal of complaint among farmers, and justly, that our Agricultural Department might be made more valuable if more attention were paid to conclusions and less to how the are reached. For illustration, take bulletin No. 11, relating to the destiny of negroes in Eastern Virginia. Here are some fifty pages of fine pictures and intricate tables, but what is the deduction? What is the study for? What does it show? Is the diet of these negroes the best for what it costs? If not, why not? The pamphlet in question answers none of these queries. It is the same likewise with most of the Agriculturaal Department's experiments and investigations. Its deductions are altogether too vague, and its studies and tables too involved and analytical.

Senator Allen, of Nebraska is probably one of the best-liked and worst-hated man in Congress, and all because he has the courage of his convictions. He is called a demagogue, but it should not be forgotten that whether his views are right or wrong, he loses infinitely more by upholding them so vigorously than he would by dropping them or being less pronounced in expressing them.

There is a man who has a class of boys in natural history. One of the subjects which he took up was butterflies and moths, and he told the children a great deal about the chrysalids and cocoons. After he had got the boys well instructed he showed one of the smallest of them one of the cocoons and asked: "What butterfly is this the cocoon of?" Then the little boy looked up and said, slowly and respectfully: "My papa says that all cocoons look alike to him."

If you intend to go to work, there is no better place than right where yo uare; if you do not intend to go to work, you cannot get along anywhere.—Abraham Lincoln.

All Conveniences.

A commercial traveler relates in the Cincinnati Enquirer that he once arrived in a small settlement in Arkansas, and at once repaired to the Eagle house, which was situated on the outskirts of the town, on the bank of a small stream. After a dinner of side meat and corn bread the drummer lighted a cigar and the proprietor said: "Stranger, is thar' anything we uns kn do foh you all?" Thinking to confound his host the drummer answered: "Well, yes come to think of it, I'd like to have a bath." The proprietor let his feet drop from the railing upon which he had hoisted them, disappeared into the house and returned in a moment with a huge tin cup full of soft soap, a rough towel and a pick and shovel, which he offered to the drummer. "What's the pick and shovel for?" the stranger asked. "Wal," answered the landlord, "th' watuh's low and yo' all 'll hev to dam up th' creek."

Early Training.

An interesting experiment is to be tried in France. In all the lycees, or higher public schools, girls at the age of 15 are to begin a course of lessons on their moral duties in life, passing on to psychology as applied to the early education of little children. The syllabus and outline of the girls' course, prepared for the minister of education by Mme. Blanc-Bentzon, has been issued, and covers ground which is left untreated in education usually, but which it is surely most needful to cultivate. In a series of "talks" the attention of the children is to be directed formally to their duties, whether as individuals, as members of the family, as members of society, or as patriots and law-abiding and helpful citizens. Such subjects are ignored in the courses of nearly all nations' schools. The teacher thinks it is the place of the parent to give such guidance, while the parent touches on these matters indirectly, if at all, in actual words. Happily, in many families the unconscious teaching of example and daily conversation supplies the needful training and stimulus.

Nature.

Abundant nature is the workman. The Porto Rican is content to let this master workman do all for him. He has slept for centuries. At the end of the nineteenth century the prod of progress has aroused him from stupor—the beams of the lamp of the Goddess of Liberty are guiding his steps; American education has torn the Spanish bandage from his eyes; his children sing of the Stars and Stripes; Spain seems a far off mythical realm; his eyes look to the west and north.

WITH HIS TRUNK.

The Big Elephant Rocked the Babies Till They Went to Sleep.

Stretched on the floor of an annex of the Crystal Palace in London is all that now remains of Charlie, the performing elephant—a great dusky skin and huge frame. Everything else has been buried, and soon the hide and skeleton, mounted to look like Charlie in life, will be added to the natural history section of the palace.

Although he had two human lives against his record, Charlie was not without friends, and there are at least three men who mourn his end. One is a black attendant, who declares: "Charlie all right, poor, old fellow;" and another, the man who is renovating the "specimens" at the palace, and speaks admiringly of the dead elephant as the best proportioned animal of its kind he has ever seen. But perhaps Charlie's most sincere mourner is Mr. Sanger, the English Barnum, with whose circus the creature traveled for close upon forty years. "He was the most docile, affectionate and intelligent animal and the finest performer I have ever known," said Mr. Sanger. "He has been up and down the country with me for 38 years, and has never interfered with the public. Why, he has nursed all my children and my grandchildren and what better evidence can there be of his docility than that? It sounds surprising, but what I mean is that he took them in his trunk and swung them gently until they fell asleep. Money will not replace him. I don't know where I could get an elephant of his size and quality as a performer." Before the final tragedy of Charlie's life took place Mr. Sanger bade him an affectionate farewell in his stall.

On account of being overstocked with ladies' oxford ties we have decided to cut the price right in the middle of the season while you want them and you can now have choice of six different styles of fine black vici kid oxfords at $1.50 a pair.
